FIRST YEAR ROBOTICS SUCCESS

By Mr. M. D'Addario

The FIRST Robotics competition was held at the Hershey Centre in Mississauga on the first weekend on April. Twenty-five students from the Brebeuf Robotics Club participated and represented the school very well.

This robotics tournament is a “varsity sport of the mind”, which combines sports with science and technology. Under strict rules, limited resources, and very precise time limits, our students were able to build a very competitive robot. Throughout the competition, the students put a great deal of time and energy into the completion of the robot in only six weeks. On average, students would stay until late into the evening and every weekend at school in order to complete their robot.

Brebeuf ended up making it to the quarter finals, which was outstanding because this was our first year entering this competition! We were one of only three rookie teams to make it that far. Officially, we ended up in 15th place out of 47 teams at this regional tournament.

I am very proud of our students because they all dedicated so much of their time, especially on weekends, to make this competition a success.

Dear Friends,

At Brebeuf, we strive to form “Men for Others” in the Jesuit and Presentation traditions. A “Man for Others” is one who helps others without being asked or pressured and who acts without seeking reward or fame. He puts his faith into action, recalling St. James’ words that “faith without works is dead”. Jesus is the paragon of the “Man for Others” and the model for us all, just as he was to our patrons: St. Jean de Brebeuf, Our Lady of the Presentation, and Blessed Edmund Rice. I am amazed by how many of our students and staff live up to this Christian ideal.

Since 1963, Brebeuf has been a school of excellence. In this issue of The Relations, I am confident you will see much of which to be proud in our boys’ spiritual, academic, athletic, and social endeavours.

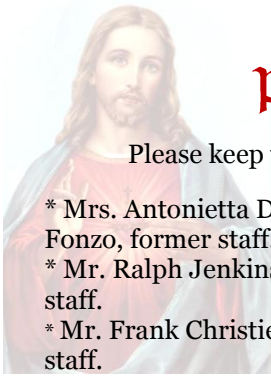

We wish all students and staff a happy and safe summer and a well deserved rest.

Editor

MEN FOR OTHERS

BROTHER MAHER FUND

A record amount of money was raised this year to support the operations of three Presentation schools in Ghana: Presentation JHS, Presentation Primary, and St. Charles Lwango JHS. Funding came from: student and staff collections each First Friday; a penny drive; donations from friends and alumni; and a very generous grant from the Ontario English Catholic Teachers' Association for $4500. In all, we raised a record amount:

$12,000

The Presentation Brothers and their students greatly appreciate your generosity.

BREBEUF BENEFACTORS

Brebeuf College is very thankful for our generous benefactors and friends who have provided significant financial support for our academic and extracurricular programmes. These include:

The Brebeuf Alumni Association
 The Brebeuf Catholic School Advisory Council (CSAC)
 The Weigand Family and Imperial Robes
 Michael Colligan '96
 George Macri '68
 The Province of Ontario
 Front Street Capital
 Global Services Inc.
 First Robotics

Funds were used for many purposes, including:

- support of the Robotics Club;
- purchasing academic gowns for the Graduation Exercises;
- acquiring new rugby uniforms;
- and sponsoring the Ghana trip and mission.

Many alumni also donate to the school via the Alumni Association.

For more information on giving to Brebeuf and tax receipts, please contact Mike Da Costa at Michael.dacosta@tcdsb.org.

TCDSB MINI-OLYMPICS

On May 17, students and staff from Brebeuf and Michael Power / St. Joseph's H.S. co-hosted the annual Mini-Olympics for special needs students from 24 schools across the TCDSB at Downsview Park. These students had the chance to try new games and compete in a friendly atmosphere and make new friends. Senior Brebeuf students served as leaders and helped to run the games. For a news clip of the day, see:

STAMP OUT POVERTY!

The Presentation Brothers in Ireland are collecting used postage stamps for their "Stamp Out Poverty" campaign. The used stamps are sold to collectors and proceeds fund their missions in Ghana, Nigeria, Grenada, and St. Lucia. Brebeuf is assisting in this project. Anyone can drop off stamps to the main office and they will be sent to Ireland.

GHANA SCHOLARSHIPS

Brebeuf more than doubled the number of scholarships it offers to students at Presentation Junior H.S. in Ghana to attend secondary school. Without this assistance, these seven young people would not be able to further their education. It only costs approximately $650 to send a child to secondary school for three years. Thanks to all who supported, including:

Brebeuf CSAC; Brebeuf Student Council;
The Class of 2011; The Class of 1992 (Kevin Doyle, Sandro Morassutti, Da Costa, Paul McGovern); Elizabeth Marshall (LAT '93); Trong Nguyen '91
The Paiva Family; Nicole Poncelet (LAT '93) & M. Rogers '82.

We were also able to fund three years of junior high school for five primary students ($100 per year).

Br. Andrew Asinga FPM, Headmaster of Presentation JHS, poses with scholarship winners.

YOUTH MINISTRY

Did you know that over 100 students are involved in Brebeuf's Youth Ministry group, making it the largest club in the school? Led by student leaders and committed staff, the group promotes faith, prayer, service, and all things Catholic! To learn more, visit their website at

AFRICAN REFLECTIONS

by Keith Rodrigues

Stepping off the plane and into the damp heat of Accra was a feeling I'll never forget. It took less than a minute and we were all drenched in sweat. The next morning we flew from Accra to a smaller city in northern Ghana known as Tamale. Upon arrival, we headed off on the long bus ride to our home for the next two weeks: the Catholic Renewal Centre in Kongo. After a series of briefings on the local customs of the people, we finally came to the reason for our trip: meeting and working with the children and students of Presentation Junior High School and Primary School. The children welcomed us warmly, and were fascinated by the cultural diversity that we, as a group, brought to them. We were there to be servant leaders, and we spent many hours informing the children about Canada and doing more practical things like painting and cooking lessons. We exchanged impromptu lessons with them on speaking English and the local dialect, Frafra. During the Olympics that we organized, we taught them hockey while they dazzled us with their soccer skills.

As time went on, we came to realize that these people weren't poor; we were. They lived on barely anything, but were still more satisfied and grateful than us. It became more and more obvious that money wasn't the deciding factor as to how rich people are. All the locals we had immersed ourselves with were live with the Holy Spirit, full of joy, and more than eager to welcome us into their homes and offer us what little they had. These were some of the greatest moments of the trip. Midway through our time in Kongo, we headed to a place called Tongo Hills. Here we saw the poorest of the poor. Quite a few of them were children, all severely malnourished and ridden with diseases. On the day of our visit, the heat averaged 55 degrees Celsius. Despite the conditions, once again we encountered children happy to see us. Their smiles were worth all that day's dehydration and grueling heat. We also had the great fortune to spend some time at an orphanage in a place called Sirigu. They were most happy at the toys we had brought along for them. One little boy was so taken with the toy Mounties we brought that he never let go of his, and refused to eat until he understood he could keep it.

There are really no words to describe my experience of Ghana. The heat, the sickness, the geckos, the people, the Jolof rice with tomato sauce, the nuns and the brothers, the rush and the calm, the guinea fowl and fish, the lengthy masses and endless repeats of "waka waka" were all essential ingredients in making this trip the unforgettable experience it truly was. I will be forever indebted to those who made this trip possible: the staff of Brebeuf, the Presentation Brothers, the Sisters of Charity of Saint Vincent de Paul, and my fellow travellers. Although the trip may be over, the experience still lives on amongst the Ghanaians and Canadians, the true Ghanadians.

QUEEN'S ENRICHMENT WEEK

Ten Brebeuf gentlemen made their way along the Old Ontario strand to Kingston to attend Queen's University's E=MC2 enrichment week. Students lived in residence and took classes in such subjects as journalism, robotics, sports science, and song writing. It allowed them to explore and learn about things beyond the curriculum with like-minded peers, and get a taste of university life at the same time.

Activities

GRADUATION FORMAL

"The Formal was a successful night, and a nice way to celebrate the last four years", remarked Gr. 12 student Boris Dyakov. The Gentlemen of the Class of 2011 showed they were a "class with class" at their Formal at the Premiere Banquet Hall on June 3rd. Over 130 couples attended a night of good food, good music, and celebration. Teacher organizer Alex Sabatini was impressed with our young men: "The Senior students were first-class in every respect on Prom night, acting in a mature manner beyond their years! They sure brought their dancing shoes as the dance floor proved to be a popular spot for the students to gather and move to the music provided by our DJ."

STUDENT COUNCIL 2011-12

Congratulations to the new Student Council, which was elected by the student body in May from an impressive slate of young leaders. We have high hopes that these young men will serve in the best Brebeuf tradition of leadership and "Men for Others" philosophy.

CSAC YEAR-IN-REVIEW

The Brebeuf Catholic School Advisory Council (CSAC) has had a very productive year. Here is a brief update of its accomplishments:

Donations

Once again, CSAC supported the Youth Ministry's trip to the March for Life rally in Ottawa, with a donation of $600.

CSAC made a substantial donation of $1,398 to subsidize two Salesian Leadership Retreats.

CSAC sponsored the high school education of one student in Ghana for 3 years at a total cost of $650.

Once again, CSAC provided the funds for the Brother Lawrence Maher FPM graduation award.

CSAC shared in the cost of a MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) presentation for Grade 11 and Grade 12 students.

Each family of Grade 9 and Grade 10 students will be receiving a fridge magnet with the August, 2011 mail-out which sets out the monthly CSAC meeting dates and important school information. These were purchased with the Parent Involvement Funds received from the Ministry of Education.

Activities

OAPCE Conference – A CSAC parent attended the Ontario Association of Parents in Catholic Education Conference in Burlington on May 13th and 14th. The keynote panel speakers were the Minister of Education Leona Dombrowsky, the President of OAPCE Aimee Gerdevich and Bishop Fred Colli. The speakers expressed their perspectives on the topic "Celebrating Parent Partnerships in Catholic Education".

One of our parents participates as the CSAC representative on the Brebeuf Safe Schools Committee which offers input into the school's Safe School Plan.

Several CSAC parents attended two TCDSB meetings for stakeholder input regarding the Equity and Inclusive Education Policy.

CSAC provided input into the TCDSB Policy, Process and Guideline for Trustees and Staff in Addressing Parent and Stakeholder Concerns.

CSAC was consulted regarding changes being considered to the school uniform (gradual elimination of the fleece top).

Brebeuf's Principal Profile was reviewed and updated by CSAC.

We have commenced preparations for Brebeuf's third annual Used Uniform Sale which is scheduled to take place on Saturday, June 11, 2011.

The Annual General Meeting of the Brebeuf CSAC is scheduled for September 27, 2011 at 7:00 p.m. in the school library. Please mark your calendars and join us as we elect the new Brebeuf Catholic School Advisory Council and its executive for the 2011-2012 school year. All members of the school community are welcome and we encourage you to attend.
