

New School Building

By Michael Da Costa '92

Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither will the new Brebeuf College. After many delays, a replacement building for Brebeuf is one step closer to reality. In a surprise move, the Toronto Catholic School Board announced recently that Brebeuf will be housed temporarily in the old Bathurst Heights Collegiate during the construction of our new building at 211 Steeles Avenue East. The school community will be moved in early February until the new Brebeuf is ready in September, 2003.

This move to Bathurst Heights saves money, shortens the construction time, and allows for Brebeuf to be properly accommodated away from construction noise. In fact, this is the first time that Brebeuf students will be housed in one building since the early Jesuit days of the school! Bathurst Heights, at Lawrence Avenue West and Bathurst Street, is currently empty. It is built for 1900 students and boasts three gyms, a pool, a 500 seat auditorium, and more space than we can imagine.

While the move will be a difficult adjustment, we are confident that our traditions, spirit, and sense of community will remain and return with us to the new Brebeuf.

The plans for the new Brebeuf and pictures of Bathurst Heights are posted on the school's website at <http://www.brebeufcollege.net>

Check the site for regular updates.

Principal's Message

In September, 1963, Brebeuf College School opened its doors, admitting the first 175 students into a school that was committed to academic excellence, Catholic values, and the development of well-rounded young men. This past September, we welcomed our thirty-ninth group of grade nine students. While society has changed significantly since '63 and our school responded well to these changes, I am pleased to report that some things remain constant. Brebeuf continues to be known for academic excellence, a strong commitment to gospel values, and a broad offering of sports teams, clubs and activities for students who wish to become involved in the life of their school. Brebeuf College has remained faithful to the vision of the school articulated nearly 40 years ago by the Jesuit fathers.

As a school community, we are moving into an exciting period of growth and change. Within a few months, this tired old building which has been our home for nearly forty years will be demolished. For a period of eighteen months we will re-locate to another site while our new building is built. In September, 2003, we expect to return to 211 Steeles Avenue East, where we will celebrate both the fortieth anniversary of the school and the opening of our new building. The coming year presents two significant challenges. On the one hand, we need to ensure that the spirit of Brebeuf, the best of our traditions, and the quality of our programs carry on throughout the period of transition, and carry over into the new building. On the other hand, we must use the new facility as an opportunity to update our curriculum, integrate new and emerging technologies into all our programs, and to align the educational experience we offer to our students with real-world applications and expectations.

Brebeuf has always been known not just as a school, but as a centre for academic excellence. It is our hope that our alumni will play an active role in assisting the school to continue this tradition. The new building will allow us to offer many new and exciting programs, and some of the fundraising goals being discussed by the alumni will be critical to ensure that the new facility is fully and properly equipped. While financial support is appreciated, the expertise of our alumni is an even more valuable resource. Our graduates are remarkably accomplished in a variety of fields, and it is time for us to draw upon your experience and expertise as we make our plans for the future.

Brebeuf is on the move, growing and changing in order to stay competitive and responsible in delivering a quality, Catholic education. The closing ceremony and reunion on Saturday, January 26, 2002, will provide all of the members of our community with an opportunity to gather together to celebrate the past, the present and the future of Brebeuf College. I look forward to seeing you there.

Parents are the first and most important educators in their children's lives.

Hawthorn School for Girls is committed to a vibrant partnership with parents in the nurturing and educational development of their children.

What does this partnership achieve?

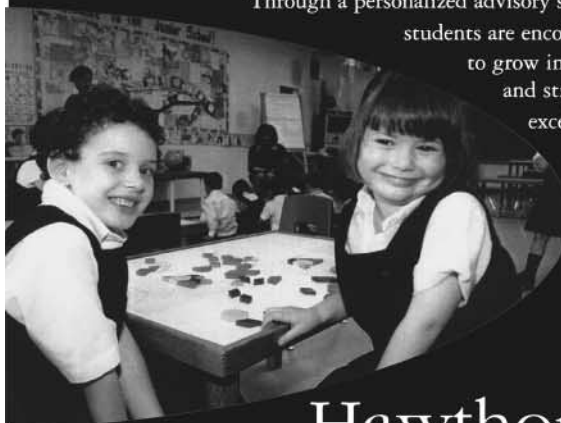

The school, working closely with parents, provides an education which develops the whole person. Each student is taught to know, to love and to do the good. This is done by developing the mind, guiding the heart and by fostering responsible behaviour.

Developing the Mind

Hawthorn is an independent school for girls which offers a superior academic program from JK to OAC. All courses are taught in the advanced level. Class sizes are small so that the academic needs of each student may be met. Hawthorn provides an education based on the teachings of the Catholic Church.

Guiding the Heart and Fostering Responsibility

We offer a program of character education unique to Canada. Through a personalized advisory system, students are encouraged to grow in virtue and strive for excellence.

Pautler Appointed Principal

By Frank MacGrath '82

Mike Pautler, Brebeuf class of '76, was appointed as the seventh principal of Brebeuf in February, 2001, twenty five years after graduating high school. Mike is the first graduate of Brebeuf to serve as principal and has returned to his alma mater to oversee the construction of the new Brebeuf campus.

Mike's appointment as Principal marks his third "tour of duty" at 211 Steeles Avenue East. Upon graduation in 1976 Mike attended the University of Toronto, graduating with a degree in English and History and a Bachelor of Education. Mike joined the Brebeuf faculty in September, 1980 teaching English for six years before moving on. He was the head of the English Department at Dante Alighieri Academy and then headed up the programme for deaf and hard of hearing students at Mother Teresa C.S.S. After serving as vice principal at Cardinal Newman, Mike was appointed as principal of Chaminade College in 1995.

In 1997, he became the founding principal of Marshall McLuhan Catholic Secondary School, where he oversaw the construction of a brand new school facility; an experience that will certainly be of value as he leads Brebeuf through the most physically significant transformation in its history.

During his short tenure as Principal, Mike has established very strong ties with the Alumni Association and all of the Brebeuf community. Welcome home, Mike!

Hollie Doyle Retirement

by Brian O'Neil '92

When the Doyle family left Pickering for the nation's capital in the summer of 1992, Statistics Canada must surely have noted a jump in the quality of teaching in the Ottawa area. Mr. Hollie Doyle's physical departure was a great loss for the Brebeuf community, but we benefited from knowing that it was with us that his heart remained.

A warm group of friends, family, colleagues and former students gathered at Brebeuf in May to celebrate the retirement of Mr. Doyle. Former vice principals, Mr. Gazeley and Mr. Clattenburg and former students, Michael DaCosta and Brian O'Neil spoke on the occasion. Mr. Doyle was universally praised for his integrity, dedication and the quality of his teaching but was not immune from a healthy bit of roasting. His left-leaning politics and propensity to cross-dress at Halloween were humourously brought into question. The night would not have been a success without the help of Mr. Doyle's wife Leslie and their children Kevin, Christine, Mike, Robin and Alex. The Doyle clan surreptitiously lured the unknowing Mr. Doyle to the school where his well-wishers had gathered for the surprise event. Best of Luck Hollie!

Memories of Brebeuf

As we prepare for a new building, the Alumni B looks back at memories of school life at 211 Steeles. In the following paragraphs various alumni from different eras recount their memories of Brebeuf.

By Patrick Ma '00

I didn't think that I would miss those $1 beef patties, but I do. I didn't think that I would miss the hot porta-pak, the "cozy" library, and the crowded caf, but I do. I miss it all.

Brebeuf was a home, a place to relax, and most of all, a place where I could be myself. It's difficult to pinpoint what exactly I miss most - simply because Brebeuf offered me such a vast array of opportunities and experiences. Looking back now, I can't help but laugh at all those early Saturday morning debates. Watching our team slowly get better, and ultimately place among the top echelon of teams was such a satisfying process. Children of Eden imprints heavily on my mind as well.

At Brebeuf, things were built from the ground up. I always felt very proud to be part of a project and watch it grow. Memories like being part of the Pitband, or competing for the Debating Club, are experiences that have shaped me as a person. Attending Brebeuf wasn't a fairy tale though - while there were triumphs, there were also some mistakes that were made. Perhaps it is the fact that I was given so many second chances though, that I value Brebeuf even more. From rowdy Student Council elections, to scrutiny over Student Council events, I can honestly say that some decisions were made in bad judgement. What makes Brebeuf so unique however, is that we were always forgiven- always given a chance to right the wrongs.

By Patrick Galligan '81 and Andrew Munro '82

For many of us who were in the Concert Band in the seventies, the trip to Europe in 1978 was a highlight. It began March 16th, when 72 students under the musical direction of John Volpe boarded a flight from Toronto to Zurich. Upon arriving, we loaded the instruments, luggage and ourselves into two Mercedes buses and headed for Weggis, a picturesque town on the shores of Lake Lucerne.

For the next four days we gave concerts in parks, shopping malls and casinos in both Weggis and Lucerne. We also enjoyed much of the local charm and hospitality, as only 72 high school boys can.

After our stay in Weggis, we boarded an overnight train bound for Northern Italy via the Alps. In the middle of the night, we were stopped at the Italian border and machine gun toting police boarded the train. Italian authorities were on high alert after the recent kidnapping of Aldo Moro, an Italian Cabinet Minister who was later assassinated by the Red Brigade, a terrorist group. The border police removed our instruments and searched them before allowing the train to continue into Italy. Eventually, we arrived in Florence where we stayed for a few days playing concerts and sight-seeing, then bused south to Assisi, an exquisite hillside town made famous by St. Francis, the patron saint of animals.

Our final tour stop was Rome. We gazed at the Sistine Chapel, attended the Pope's Easter Sunday mass in St. Peter's square (along with a few hundred thousand others), and otherwise explored Rome's many riches (not the least of which included liberal drinking laws).

The highlight of the trip was our performance during a general audience for Pope Paul VI, in which the band competed with choirs, sports teams, chapters of the Knights of Columbus, and various other groups for the Pope's attention. What our band lacked in talent, we made up for with enthusiasm. When we played "Great Themes from Great Italian Movies" (our signature piece for this part of the tour) the Pope beamed, came right over, and waved his hand at us in blessing after blessing.

There is a faded, grainy picture clipped from The Toronto Star, dated Thursday, March 30, 1978. In it we are all posing proudly in our white tuxedo jackets and black dress pants in St. Peter's Square on a beautiful afternoon, and we have just played for the Pope. And even in a newspaper clipping over 20 years old, you can see in our faces a glow, as if in that moment in time we had all been touched by grace.

Can You Imagine ...

By Paul Royes '76

Can you imagine ... if the walls of Brebeuf could talk ... what might they remember ... the thoughts ... the memories ... the events ... the impressions.

Can you imagine ... the sounds ... the sounds of pennies shimmering across the floor of Father Trainor's grade 9 Latin class ... the sounds of suffering and soul-searching by the brave lads who dared to enter upon a late night tour of a German red light district on the 1974 band trip to Europe ... the sounds of concrete cracking as Mark Braganola attempted his daily bench press of the east wing of the school ... the sound of Clem Crusoe ("canoe shoes!", sometimes was heard) as he paddled his way through the narrow hallways greeting students on the journey ... the sound of chalk making its journey in a completely perfect circle in Mr. Sullivan's class ... a feat unsurpassed to this day ... the sounds of rulers snapping against the corners of desks ... an ancient ritual in math, Latin, and some other sacred culture classes ... the orchestral sounds of a unified chorus of squeaky chairs in Miss Wards Science class ... the pitter-patter sounds of chalk bouncing off the chalkboard, launched from back of some haunted lab ... (Miss Ward's class) ... the sounds of joy by Miss Ward as she is transferred to the Library to finish off her two years less a day sentence ... the sounds of hearts beating (no doubt our Science class punishment) in grade 12 calculus, as anyone could be called upon, at any moment to deliver to the class some long forgotten sacred algorithm known only by mystics, sages, and Darcy Hart ... the sounds of John Brown delivering our school newspaper the "B", followed immediately by our cheers and salutes to this magnificent feat of bravery ... the panting sounds of 1976 alumni floor hockey team as they picked their lungs off the floor for the last time ... the sounds of silence ... as we carried our crosses towards a graduation victory dance ... the sounds of TRIUMPH (Canada's loudest rock band) that signaled our victory, at last ... the sounds of Brebeuf are not forgotten, it will always be the house of the rising sun ... with Mike Pautler '76 returning to become a source of light upon which all may follow ... we are proud of you Mike... the torch is now in your hands.

Where Are They Now?

Rob Baldauf '82 is the Practice Lead - Relationship Management for DMR Consulting in Calgary.

Peter Barbetta '70 is the Vice President and General Counsel for Cadillac Fairview in Toronto.

Father Don Beaudois SJ, stationed at Manresa Retreat House in Pickering, recently returned to Brebeuf to celebrate the First Friday Mass. Many alumni teachers claimed to be worried they might yet be the focus of Father's disciplinary tactics.

Richard Chung '92 and his wife recently had their first born son, Owen Patrick. Richard lives in Richmond Hill and works for the Ford Credit department.

Paul Collins '77 is a lawyer with Lang Michener in Toronto.

Kevin Doyle '92, son of Hollie Doyle, former staff, married Anida Chiodo in September. Teachers present included Bob Lato '68 and Mark Burke. Class of '92 guests were: Brian O'Neill (the ever witty MC), Sandro Morassutti, Markus Thadanev, Richard Chung and Mike Da Costa.

Father Larry Leger '82 is the Pastor of Holy Martyrs of Japan Catholic Church in Bradford.

Frank Levec '82 returned for the Alumni Hockey tournament in May. Frank is working with the Ministry of Natural Resources in Peterborough.

Father Bob O'Brien '80 is the Pastor of Precious Blood Parish in Toronto.

John Oster '77 is with Aventis Pharma in Laval Quebec. He is married to Catherine Main and they have three children - Alexander, Hailey and Andrew. John writes that his two brothers are Brebeuf Grads: Mike '72, married with 2 kids and living in Ottawa, Frank '69, living in Don Mills with one of his sons attending Brebeuf.

Chris Prouse '69 is the supervisor of the Regulatory Section and Legislative Coordinator for the PEI Department of Agriculture.

Paul Royes '76 is a professor of digital media at George Brown College in Toronto and is completing his Master of Arts Degree in Holistic and Aesthetic Education at OISE.

Father Winston Rye SJ, is now the principal of St. Bonaventure's, the new Jesuit high school in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Larry Ryan '69 is the General Manager of Enbridge Home Services. Larry is married with three children and living in Caledon.

Jay Smith '67, who attended Brebeuf in its first year, is a forensic psychiatrist in Hollywood, CA. He insists that means he does not treat dead people!

Richard Snyder '67 is a retired dentist living in Oregon. Richard was a former Brebeuf president.

Brother Henry Spencer FPM, although retired from teaching, continues to volunteer as a chaplain at Brebeuf and leader of Les Donnes. The Presentation Brothers recently moved out of the school residence to a house in the Bayview/Cummer area.

Co-Op Program

Over 130 students are enrolled in Brebeuf's Co-Op Programme, one of the largest anywhere. While this success is a testament to the programme and the support of Brebeuf, certain problems are created. The main problem is finding quality placements to meet the needs of the students. The fields of aviation, audio engineering, advertising, and radio and television are especially difficult to find.

The Brebeuf Alumni Association has been a tremendous supporter of the Co-Op Programme. Currently more than 10% of students are placed at work positions with Brebeuf Alumni. Your support is so valuable and much appreciated. If you have contacts in the above mentioned work areas, we would love hearing from you.

Rick Naccarato and Larry Vindischman wish all members of the Alumni Association and their families a safe and happy Christmas season. We look forward to working with you in the New Year.

Global Alumni

While many Brebeuf alumni live within the GTA, an increasing number of graduates now work and live outside Canada. We welcome news about where in the world you are living.

Dr. Tom Rice '68 one of the most loyal supporters of Brebeuf and the Alumni Association. Tom is living in Ohio.

Gary Hubbard '73 - relocated to Chicago in 1991 where he is a V.P. at Moore Corporation. Gary and his family live in Lake Forest just north of Chicago, which Gary describes as very much like Toronto.

Peter Watson '73 is the in house counsel for Orica in Denver.

As reported in the last Alumni B, Greg Casey '74 is the Director of Quality Assurance for Coors Brewing, company

Steve Munro '81 is the Senior Manager, Marketing and Business Development with Abbott International in Chicago.

Fellow 1981 classmate Barry McInerney is the CEO of the William M. Mercer U.S. Investment Consulting Practice in New York.

Tim Flanagan '81 is living in southern California and is the owner of several parking lot businesses.

Doug MacMillan '82 is now living in Texas with his family.

John Branigan '82 is managing the Houston office of Movers International.

Mike Tomaszek '82 is living in Arizona and managing the ticket office for the Phoenix Symphony.

John Corso '88 is in Washington, D.C. finishing a work assignment with the Hunt Corporation. John was married in July, 2001 in Toronto to Marian Sullivan.

Steve Sabol '88 has relocated to Scottsdale Arizona and is managing a nightclub while John Sabol '83 is a Senior Scientist with GE Medical in Milwaukee. Paul Sabol '82 now resides in Toronto after some extensive international work and travel.

The Miller boys may be Brebeuf's most worldly group of alumni brothers : Gerry '73 is in Houston, Tom '75 is in Bermuda, Donald '75 is in Florida and John Miller '81 is in Zimbabwe.

Don Robertson '81 is Editor at Vogue

Alumni Golf

After a record number of second and third place finishes over the past ten years, Bryon Di Sera '81 finally captured individual "low gross" honours at the 18th Annual Brebeuf Alumni Golf Classic at Silver Lakes in June, 2001 with a superb round of 76. Tom Pasquale '73 took second place with a score of 79 just edging out perennial contender Malcolm Anthony '78 who recorded an 80. Former Brebeuf staff member Bill Kennedy took low net honours with a 59 proving that all those practice rounds at Emerald Hills (where Bill is a course marshall) are paying off.

The team of Jason Baycroft, Matt Dale, Tom Horsley and Ed Nadalini from 1992 took home the team prize while 1985 continued its stranglehold on the "year with the most alumni attending without winning anything" category! The class of '75 was also well represented with a number of alumni attending including Bryan Black, Pat Ryan, Robert Tonelli (who won the putting contest), Larry Lancefield, Brian Didone and Mike Nestor. Please mark Tuesday, June 25th, 2002 on your calendar for the next alumni golf tournament.

Alumni Floor Hockey

Alumni Floor Hockey returns in the spring of 2002. Brebeuf's temporary home at Bathurst Heights has two gymnasiums allowing the tournament to be run in one day, likely a Saturday. Alumni interested in participating should contact Peter Gillespie '85 at peter.gillespie@freedom55financial.com or 416-250-7750 ext 291.

Ice Hockey Update

By Bryon Di Sera '81

Another hockey tournament has gone by and much to my surprise there were no major complaints to contend with, thanks guys! The only concern was that the times on the Saturday were too late. For the 2002 tournament I will have the tournament over by 2pm on the Saturday and hopefully all games will be over by 9pm on Friday (more time for pub night).

'81 regained the A division championship after being beaten the year before. Unfortunately the game sheets for the finals of divisions C and D were lost in a move and I can't remember who won. Please e-mail me if your team won.

It was great to see 3 teams from the 1990's come out for the first time. I hope they will be back for years to come. The 2002 tournament will be increased to 16 teams. If your year has not been in the tournament before or has dropped out, get a team together, you won't be sorry!

The 2002 hockey tournament is being held at Beatrice Ice Gardens at York University on May 3-4. As always we will have the Friday pub at the Blade and Firken.

Come out and catch up with old friends, tell some lies and have a beer.

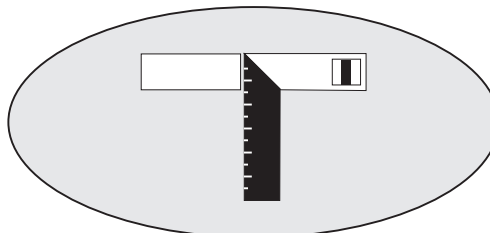

Please contact me at with your team entry ASAP at e-mail disera@sympatico.ca
