BREBEUF COLLEGE SCHOOL NEWSLETTER — NOVEMBER, 2015

PRINCIPAL'S REFLECTIONS

You have to understand that I still feel like a guest columnist writing in this year's first edition of The Relations. Chances are that this is not the first time you have read our newsletter. I start off my first column with a sense of honour and respect to serve as principal of Brebeuf College School. I do this knowing there have been nine principals before me, many of them giants in Catholic Education (Fr. Rye for example). Yet as it may seem flippant that I say "guest", I already feel a part of this community and a sense of belonging.

I would like to try to take a thematic approach to my "principal's reflections" that appear in The Relations with a focus on community as this year's point of reference. Looking at community through the lens of belonging is a very logical way to begin this journey. For me, experiencing the warmth from belonging to a community is very much akin to the natural connection one feels with family. Although the comparison may be contrary to what some may believe since we cannot choose our families. Many of us came to be Brebeufians (honourary or otherwise) by choice; I still believe that once captured by this Brebeuf spirit, there is a unique and special connection to the people in the school, from day-to-day, to the true signs in the building itself, and to its history, traditions and people of its past. All inspire this sense of belonging to a community that is unique and special.

I have three examples that easily inspire me to believe that belonging at Brebeuf can be unconditional and familial. First, look at my own experience! I first met Brebeuf staff in late June this year and again during our pre-Labour Day professional activity day. On those two initial occasions, I was struck by the sense of ownership, belief and care that our staff has for this school. So when they saw and met the principal for the first time, there was no sense of distrust or “wait and see”. In fact, from the get-go it has been an unwavering sense of natural connection - like a family with an understanding we are all going to roll up our sleeves, get to work and continue to build on the traditions of this great community we call Brebeuf.

As adults, our memory of beginning the high school journey is something we all remember well because it helped to form us and create many of the positive connections that were supportive to us. For some of us these connections have been long-lasting and extend to this day. How do we emphasize that sense of belonging with our 14 year-old Grade 9 students? Two examples are our summer transition program and our trip in September to Muskoka Woods. This past July, over 150 of our pre-Grade 9 Brebeufians took a learning strategies course at the school. Not only did this course give them the opportunity to get a “leg-up” on their credit count, but it lessened the Grade 9 anxiety that often accompanies the opening weeks because it gave them a sense of belonging in the school (both the building and community) on a smaller scale. Individually, it gave them the chance to connect with their own contemporaries and some of the Brebeuf staff. Later in September, almost all of the Grade 9 class participated in a three-day excursion to Muskoka Woods. There the concept of belonging to the Brebeuf community extended itself fully. Students took part in activities that built camaraderie, self-reflection on the faith journey and development of self-esteem. What crystalized the sense of belonging for me and its place in ensuring Grade 9’s were fully engulfed as members of the Brebeuf community was the role that our senior student-leaders played in connecting them to these goals of the camp. Grade 11 and 12 students were instrumental in supporting and leading our grade nines during their time at Camp Muskoka and they provided the bridge to ensure that a sense of unity and belonging will carry through the entire school year. I congratulate all those who took part and planned Muskoka Woods 2015, as it laid a great foundation on what promises to be a very good school year.

Finally, in these initial months of the school term, Brebeuf manages to manifest belonging through community outreach. This happens in many forms, including volunteerism at The Scott Mission, Gr. 8 classroom visits to publicize our school or speaking at Sunday Liturgy at Blessed Trinity. These further emphasize to people outside of the immediate school community that Brebeuf is a special place. Brebeuf cares and tries to develop in young men a sense of belonging within Brebeuf with the purpose that this extends to the world in which we live. It is when we feel at home in community and experience this God-given grace that we all can demonstrate ourselves to be “Men for Others” for everyone to see. My gratitude and thanks to all of you for being a part of that journey.

In community,

John Wujek
Principal

The Relations is the official newsletter of Brebeuf College School. It is named for the letters that St. Jean de Brebeuf and his Jesuit confreres sent home to France in the 17th Century. Its aim is to share much of the good news coming from the school.

MEN FOR OTHERS

CONSECRATED LIFE

This year, the Church celebrates the men and women who have entered Consecrated Life as Brothers, Sisters, and Priests. We at Brebeuf are blessed to have the daily presence of Brother Henry Spencer, F.P.M., in our school. Brother was one of the original Presentation Brothers to arrive at Brebeuf in 1984 and taught until his retirement in 1997. Since then, he has volunteered his time daily on the school's Chaplaincy team. His work on the school morning prayer, communion service, retreats, masses, and his joyful faith greatly enrich the spiritual life of the school. He is a role model for us all. Thank you, Brother!

BROTHER MAHER FUND

Brebeuf continues to be a significant donor to the Presentation Brothers' schools in Ghana and Nigeria. Monies are raised as part of the campaign called the Brother Lawrence Maher Fund for Africa, named for our former Principal. Almost $15,000 was raised last year through a variety of means last year, including monthly collections from the students and staff; a euchre night; a Christmas gift catalogue; and a generous donation from OECTA.

This year, a new club of students called PresLink will help in these fundraising endeavours. Meetings are every Thursday after school in the library.

Students from St. Charles Lwanga School in Yendi, Ghana, one of the schools that Brebeuf helps to support.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Brebeuf will host its twelfth Social Justice Symposium on December 11th on the theme of “Awareness of Unfairness: The Oil Sands and Native Canadians”. The event, which is organized by Brebeuf’s Social Justice and Environmental Club, will take place at the University of St. Michael’s College at the University of Toronto. Over 275 students and staff from twenty Catholic high schools will attend. Stay tuned for registration information.

CLOTHING DRIVE

Operation Off the Hook will take place from November 6-17. Students can bring in gently used clothing to their homeroom classes. The drive will also serve as a competition between Grade 9 Houses and Grades 10-12 homerooms.

SCHOOL NEWS

KAIROS 11

Brebeuf’s eleventh Kairos retreat took place at Manresa Retreat Centre in Pickering from October 28-30. Over thirty Grade 11 retreatants were led by a group of dedicated Grade 12 students, themselves Kairos alumni, and a team of staff. The retreat is common in Jesuit schools across North America. The aim is to bring students closer to God and their families, and they are always a tremendous success. Kairos 11 was no exception.

ACADEMIC AWARDS NIGHT

Five hundred students and their parents and families gathered for the annual Academic Awards Night on October 14 to celebrate academic excellence. The ceremony, which took place in the school's beautiful atrium, inducted students into the 2014-15 Honour Roll for achieving averages over eighty per cent. Students also received recognition for having the highest marks in a subject. Other awards were also presented:

ENRICHED MATHEMATICS

By Brandon Morin

Brebeuf's Enriched Mathematics programme continues to be very successful. The students currently in Grade 12 have received the results for their first Advanced Placement tests written in May, 2015. This test is called the Advanced Placement Calculus AB test. Out of 23 students, 18 of them received a mark of 3 or above. This is an impressive feat for students who were, at the time of writing the test, still in Grade 11. Out of the 18 who received a mark of 3 or above, 9 of these students received a mark of 5; the highest mark possible and equivalent to an A+ in first year university calculus. Many of the students in grade 12 intend on writing the second Advanced Placement test: AP Calculus BC. These tests are equivalent to a university math credit at many universities in Canada and the U.S., so these students have truly achieved something difficult. We wish the best of luck to those who plan on writing the Advanced Placement Calculus exams this year in the Grade 11 and Grade 12 classes.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL PARENT COUNCIL (CSPC)

By Rosanna Del Grosso

The start of a new school year is always exciting. This one is particularly exciting as we welcome our new Principal John Wujek. He hasn't wasted any time in making sure he connected with our boys. Over the summer he came out to meet our grade 9 students during our freezie sales in July. And he is walking around the school with his famous black book over lunch hour and after school. Welcome Mr Wujek!

At the same time we would like to introduce the new Catholic School Parent Council Committee:

Rosanna Del Grosso – Chair
Jeoff Shiekh – Vice Chair
Maria Piccione - Treasurer
Tricia Berry – Secretary
Sam Wong – Member at Large
Carmelina Mazzilli – Member at Large
Peter Mann – Member at Large
Daryoush Mortazavi – Member at Large
Martin Cooke – Member at Large

Parent council has a significant job ahead as school boards across the province have cut funding in all areas of programming at local schools. This year we are looking at a target of raising $30,000. We are hoping to count on parent support to meet this goal. We are asking parents to come forward with any fundraising ideas and suggestions. Also, there are many businesses that do offer sponsorships, grants and donations. We are asking you to investigate these possibilities and send us an email to follow up at cspc.brebeuf@tcdsb.org.

ALUMNI IN THE NEWS

VALEDICTORIAN SPEECH 2015

By Vincent Matromatteo '15

Good afternoon parents, teachers and now alumni of Brebeuf. Much has changed over the last four years. But one thing will remain constant; the experiences we shared at our school.

In an age when competition is tight and unemployment is high, it's easy to view high school as just a stepping stone to university or college. But Brebeuf hasn't only prepared us for future studies or work. More importantly, it has prepared us for our lives.

The friendships we've formed have been meaningful. To describe Brebeuf students, the term "brotherhood" is thrown around a lot, almost to the point of cliché. But it is nonetheless real at Brebeuf.

All of us have bonded together to overcome challenges. You can see the brotherhood in so many different groups. It's in the rugby team, going undefeated in the season and making it to OFSAA. It's in Theatre Brebeuf, where students put on a brilliant stage production of Spamalot. It's in the hockey team, excelling at OFSAA while defying all expectations. It's in peer tutoring, where Brebeufians helped one another with the guidance of Mr. Savelli. And it's in robotics, where students built a robot despite all their frantic struggling.

Entering grade nine, I expected high school to be little more than academics. But Brebeuf proved me wrong. With the Youth Ministry, I've had experiences unique to Brebeuf, through Kairos retreats and the pilgrimage to Rome. I'll never forget these experiences and the friendships I formed through them. Every school has clubs and teams, but none have our sense of brotherhood.

Clearly, there were a lot of great moments this year, and many more I can't contain in one speech. But these were accompanied by difficult moments. Our very own Br. Spencer was gone for much of the year due to illness. We're grateful to have him back, but we should pray for his ongoing recovery.

As well, we say goodbye to our principal, Mr. Azzopardi. His years of dedicated service to Brebeuf will always be remembered.

All of us are adults now, even though we rarely act like it. The future is in our hands, which seems to be a terrifying prospect. But with everything we've accomplished at Brebeuf, we have emerged as future leaders. As we move on, we can't forget our roots. Even though the working world will bring its own set of challenges, remember those friendships you forged at Brebeuf. This is the last time we'll be in the same room together. But even though our time together has ended, the brotherhood never will.

We owe a great deal of thanks to those who made our graduation possible. To our teachers, who were supportive and understanding. And to all those teachers involved in extracurriculars, for all the voluntary effort you put into our school. A special thank you to Mr. Da Costa, whose commitment to Brebeuf and its alumni are unmatched. To our parents, who faced the difficult task of putting up with teenage sons. If you think the last four years were hard, just wait until you start paying our tuition. And finally, congratulations to all of you graduates, for persevering through the hardest, but most rewarding year of high school.

Long after we're gone, I'll remember the class of 2015 for all the good times we shared. I finished exams this year feeling more relieved than sentimental. At first, I just felt glad to be done, but now I realize what a milestone this is. We faced challenges, but we also experienced success, especially the success of graduating today.

It was an honour being part of this class, and I'm humbled to have been chosen to speak for you. We'll all reach success in our own way, and we'll have our families and the experience of Brebeuf to thank for it.

Good luck, God bless, and farewell class of 2015.

"I have found Brebeuf to be a great school. There are many wonderful teachers who teach in a fun and organized way. There is a great atmosphere where making friends is easy and brotherhood is present. Many opportunities are here for you. It's only my second month here and I really like it." – Andrew M.

"My impression of Brebeuf so far is that Brebeuf is a delightful school with great students and teachers. I have really enjoyed my first weeks at the school." – Andrew O.

"It is fantastic and I love it. I enjoy being a Brebeuf student and am proud of being in Brebeuf College." – Iman K.

"My impressions of Brebeuf are brotherhood, family, and friendship. I love this school so much." – Cyrus D.

"My impressions on Brebeuf so far is that it's a very good school and has a very friendly environment. Everyone involved in the school is very welcoming and very helpful toward each other."

"The first few weeks at Brebeuf College School have greeted me with open arms, and in this time I've learned what the school is all about. There are so many events, such as Muskoka Woods, that orient new students such as myself into the school. This is great, as it makes me satisfied with my choice. Granted, there are other reasons a student may be satisfied with his choice of Brebeuf, such as its themes and specialties. For me, it's the good organization and academic reputation that makes me like Brebeuf so far." – Matthew V.

"I like Brebeuf because it is a great school. It has fun teachers who give a lot of homework, but still let us do fun activities. I met new friends and joined some fun sports clubs. I am liking Brebeuf so far." -- Justine M.

"I think Brebeuf is a great school. Everybody here cares for each other and you feel like you're part of a big family." – Miguel I.

"I like Brebeuf because it is an overall great school. The teachers are cool and nice, but the homework tends to get out of hand sometimes. I've also made a couple of new friends here. There are many fun activities such as the Muskoka Woods trip. This school also has many clubs and sports teams to join. I'm glad I attend this school." – Alec R.

"Brebeuf seems to be a very well-rounded school with multiple sports, programs, and academic and enriched courses. I have yet to join any clubs or sports teams, but from what I've seen, there is a wide variety to choose from. As for personal experiences, all the teachers have been nice and helpful and have pushed me for that higher mark. – Daniel O.

"My first impression of Brebeuf is that there is an awesome brotherhood that we have with each other. Also we have a great school environment. For example, the school is fairly new so it is a modern facility. I like my first impressions of Brebeuf." – Dominic G.

My first impressions of Brebeuf so far is that everyone cares for each other. They really mean it when they talk about "brotherhood". The teachers are nice and they teach you well. Brebeuf has a large variety of sports and clubs that makes school more fun." – Corban J.

"My current impression of Brebeuf is that it's an academically-elite school. The rules are strictly enforced, but lenient sometimes. The school is a non-bullying environment. My impression is that Brebeuf is a great school all around." – Virgilio D.

"So far my impressions of Brebeuf are, to be honest, phenomenal. Firstly, our reputation is well-known. The moment I mention "Brebeuf" when others ask which school I got to, people say they know it and a lot of famous people went here. The Brebeuf teachers are the best of the best. When teaching, they are always patient. They also help every single student when we feel insecure or have problems understanding the lessons. Brebeuf is the most amazing school I've ever attended." -- Jeremiah B.

"Brebeuf is a great school. I was able to make friends and join so many clubs that fit my interests. Thank you, Brebeuf!"-- Ezekiel C.
